Tim Hienle, getting ready for class, sorts through his papers in history class.

Matthew Gilna pushes himself to the limits, aiming for the finish line.

With the turn of the century approaching, it was a year of beginnings and endings. It was a beginning for the last graduating class of the 20th century. New traditions such as Friday - night Homecoming games replaced the traditional Saturday games, while other traditions such as Color Day remained. Students adjusted to new classes, teachers, and friends. Four years of growth began for the freshmen and came to a close for the seniors. This was

The Prologue of it all....

Brian Zarin and Sarah MacCarthy share a joke and a laugh at the seniors' day off at Festival Lakes.

Mike Dowley spins date Jenny Johnson around the dance floor.

Dave Saffell piles on the food at the senior picnic.

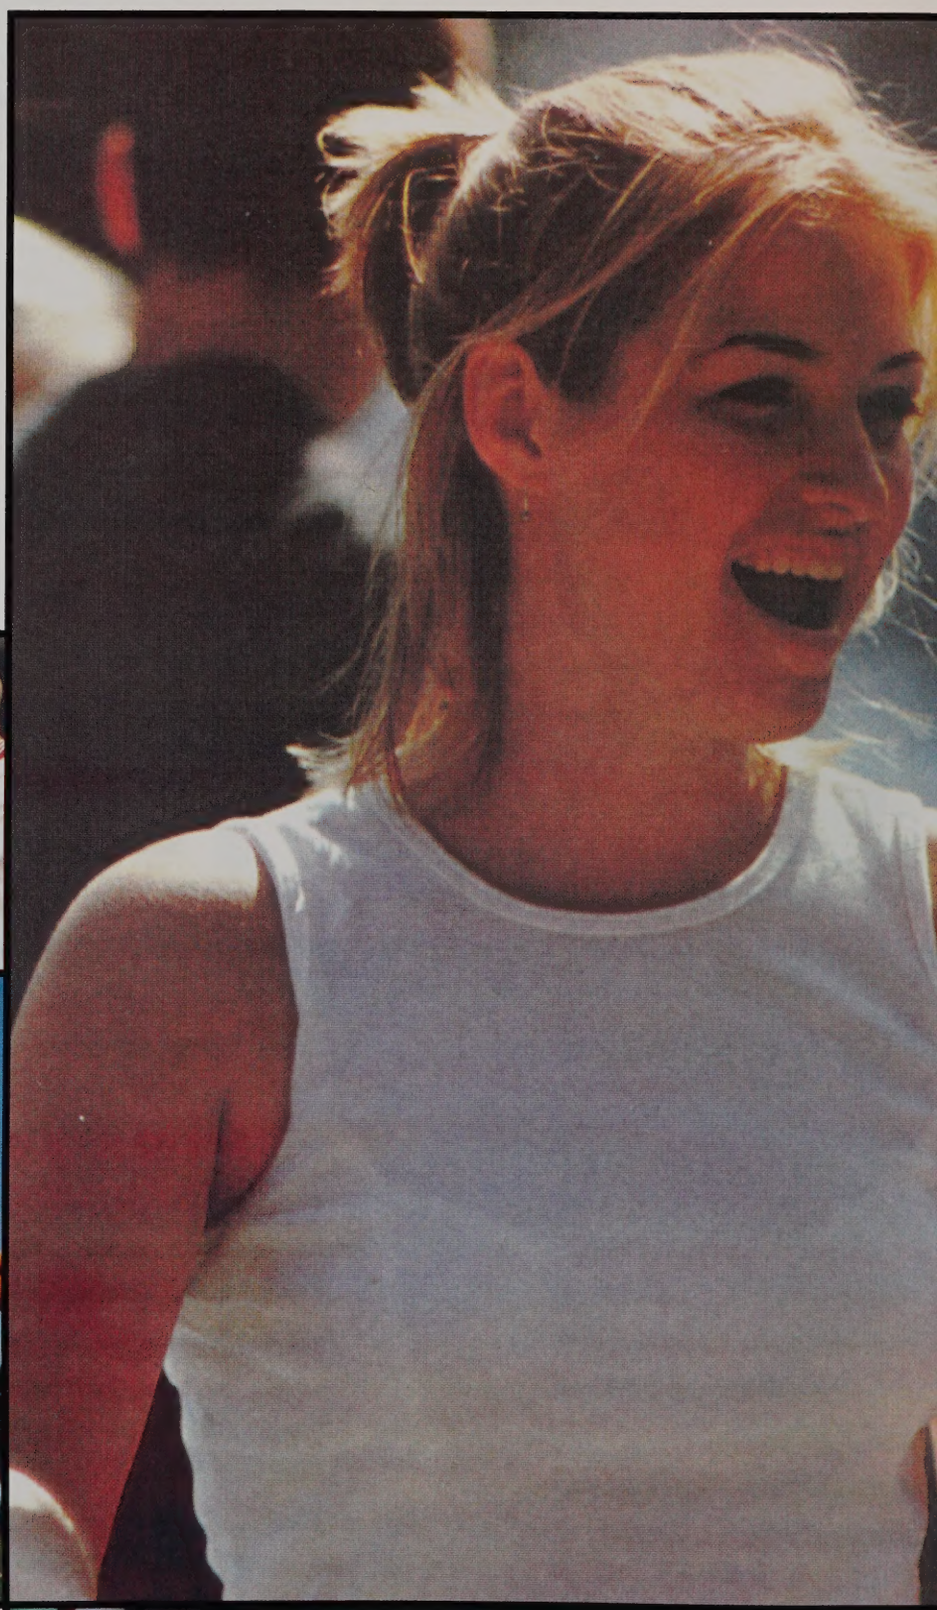
Stephanie Dye and her date, Kenneth, from Park View, dance together at Homecoming.

STUDENT LIFE

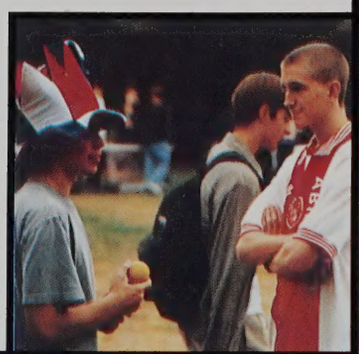
Marielle Hadid and Tandis Sale share a bench and a lunch during the senior class picnic.

Another chapter in the lives of the students had begun. With an academically challenging year, students had to balance extracurricular activities and schoolwork. Over thirty hours of the week were spent at school; many more hours were spent in school related activities; while the rest of the time, students found time to relax and enjoy themselves. Along with homework, sports, friends, family, clubs, and other activities, students were Dedicated To...

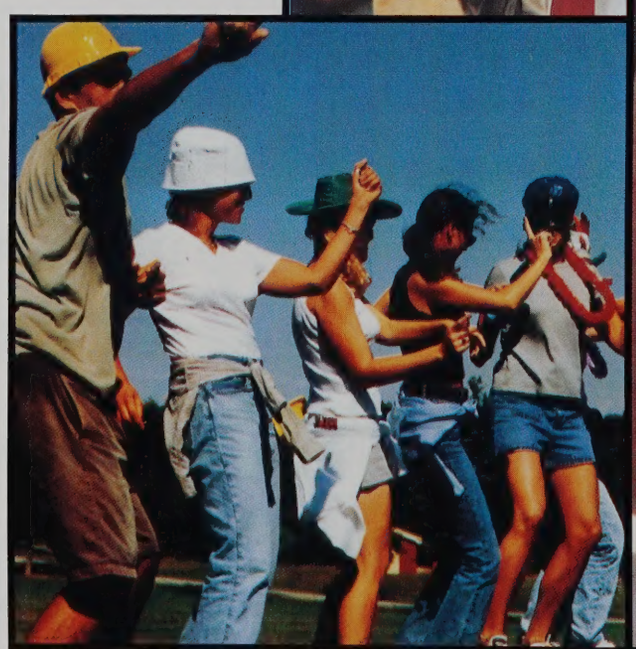
Abby Kearns, Lindsay Turner, Michelle Fontenot, and Kristin Hopkins discuss their books in class.



Elena Mixon enjoys a sunny afternoon at Festival Lakes. Friends, games, and food provided for a perfect start to her senior year.



Andrew Rosendorf strives to get people interested in the Drama Club. He has played a large role in the drama department since his freshman year.



Michael Stoppelman, Nadia Tahmassian, Mary Ellen Stefanou, Marielle Hadid, and Lindsay Strunk show off their dance moves to YMCA

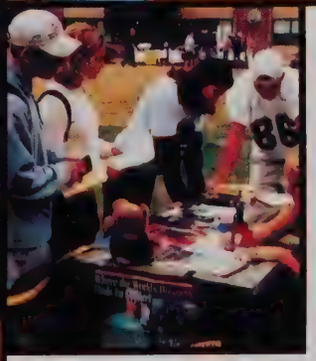
First Chapter

Did you Know...?

* Langley welcomed over twenty new teachers and staff members. Mrs. Appleby, a new art teacher, expressed confusion after hearing about Spirit Week. She couldn't understand why a school would actually encourage students to act crazy for one week.

* According to junior Jessica Williams, "It's always fun to see the freshmen wandering around the halls the first week of school looking for their classes."

Meghan Roberts goes over some Club Day information with assistant principal Bill Clendaniel.



Caitlin Kelly and Jon Veal show some interest in the Future Business Leaders of America during Club Day. The day gave students the chance to walk around the courtyard and try out all the new and different clubs offered.

After three months of summer, it's always nice to see old friends again. Alison Havermann, Courtney Pace, and Pam Owens are excited to reunite on the first day of school.

Spirit Week
Freshman & Sophomores

* The sophomore- sponsored day during the week was called Animal House and the school was a party with people in togas.

* The Freshmen were kicked off the stage in the middle of their lip sync performance by the junior girls decked out in James Bond attire.

Brittany McCabe is proud to be seen in green. Like many of her fellow classmates McCabe is dolled up in green face paint and wore her class T-shirt with pride.

The officers for the class of 2001 Jessica Shernit, Emily Huyler, Patty Villarroel, Rachel Mitnick, and Stephanie Schreibman parade around on the track in Mrs. Russ' yellow Mustang convertible driven by Mr. Charles Thomas.

Laura Evancich displays her sophomore spirit to the full extent on Color Day.

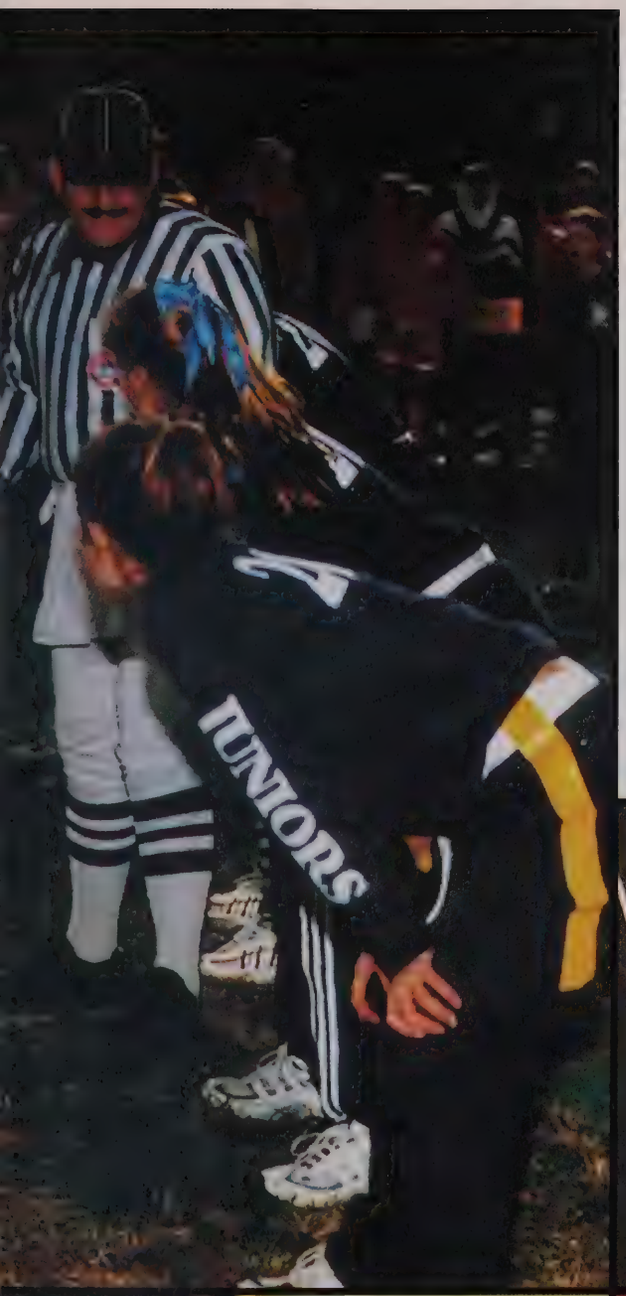
Officers Jonathan Staley, Emily Dooley, and Sam Lindsey struggle against the seniors in the annual tug-of-war at the Homecoming pep rally.

Preparing for battle, seniors and juniors get set on the line of scrimmage. "We tried to talk dirty and scare them when we set up," said Anna Hiatt.

Mary Kuzmick smiles for the camera during the Color Day carnival after school.

Henry Lee flies through the air during the Powder Puff game, relying solely on his bases to catch him. "I kept telling them not to look up my skirt while I was flying," said Lee.

Caught in the act, Scott Gramm does some dirty work in the crowd.



Spirit Week
Juniors & Seniors

* Senior T-shirts, which did not have a design on the back, were personalized by individual students with their own catchy phrases. Some of these included, "Babes are fine in '99" and "Absolute Senior."

* The Powder Puff game between the senior and junior girls ended in a victory for the seniors, 18-8.

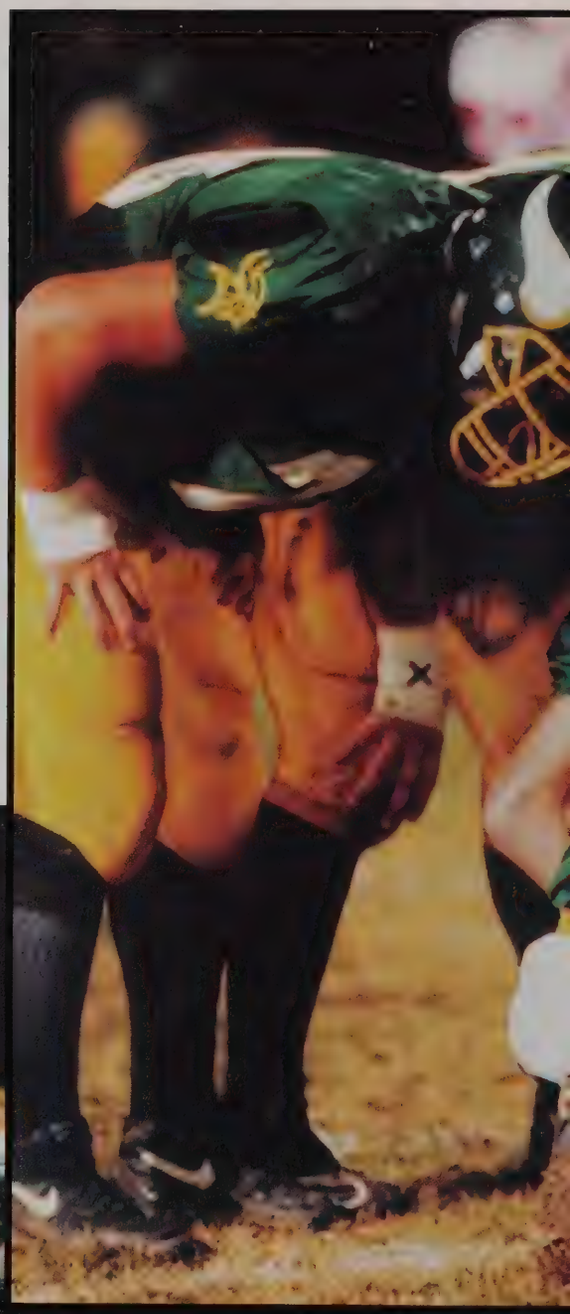
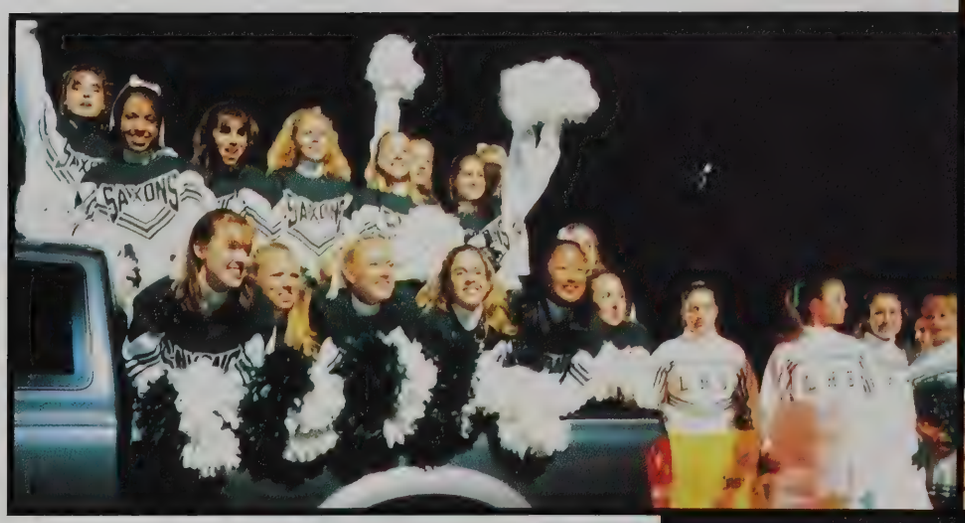
Having trouble concentrating during class, senior Mark Roher shares a laugh with fellow classmates.

The Game Did you know...?

* The senior queen was Alex Leader and the king was Jonathan Shernit, but - because he was playing in the game - his little brother Matthew Shernit was crowned in his place.

* Right before half - time in the game, Chris Flom flew a plane over the field, dropping toilet paper and confetti.





The Varsity Cheerleaders show off their spirit at halftime. As usual, the seniors take their spots in the front, while the rest stand in the back. "I've been looking forward to this ride forever!" said Laura MacKichan.

Morgan Spencer and Stephanie Wang, junior Homecoming princesses, take their "lap" around the track during half time.

Christine Chow, Courtney Zahra, and Alex Leader smile for the camera before the Homecoming halftime parade. "I felt really honored to be nominated. We had a great time riding in the Jaguar," said Leader.

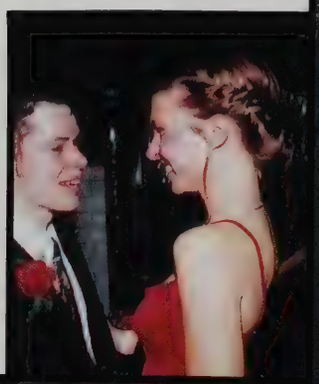
During a break in the game, the team huddles around quarterback Chad Tornabeni as he goes over the next play of the game.

Sergio Romano , SGA vice-president, presents the Grand Marshall, dedicated custodian, Grace Bang, with a plaque.

Brendan Callahan looks on encouragingly as the Saxons fight their way to victory.

Jessica Case gets into the halftime production. "We all had a lot of fun," said Case.

Jacqueline Ouellett smiles as she and her date, Vince San Juan, take a break from the dancing and loud music.



Nick Turner takes his date out of the gym for a chance to talk and enjoy her company, free from the masses of dancing bodies.

The infamous dancer, Chris Kan, and dance partner Maura Green smile for the camera, while dancing away.

"The best part about Homecoming is seeing everyone all dressed up for a Saturday night, unlike any other night of the year," says junior Kara McKenzie.

Did you Know...?

* "It was a night where anything could happen. My mascara smears with tears of joy and, at the same time, tears of sadness, knowing that would be the last time I would ever dance," sighes Bradley Quarton.

* Decorations took about five to six hours to set up. Students arrived as early as 8:30 a.m. and left as late as 2:00 p.m.

Freshman Jessica Kostin cozies up to sophomore dance partner Alex Dowsett.

Although Andrea Miranda and Chandana Karmarker are not dressed for the occasion, the two still manage to make something of the evening, going as far as renting a limo.

Chris Grindler looks on as old friend Will Staley shows off for the crowd. The two agree that most of their night was spent on the dance floor.

Mr. Bui is toted into the spot light to arm wrestle the best of the best, Mrs. Shifflett.

Otto, David Lane, uses his mini-megaphone to get the crowd pumped up. Lane was crowned Otto at the first pep rally of the school year.

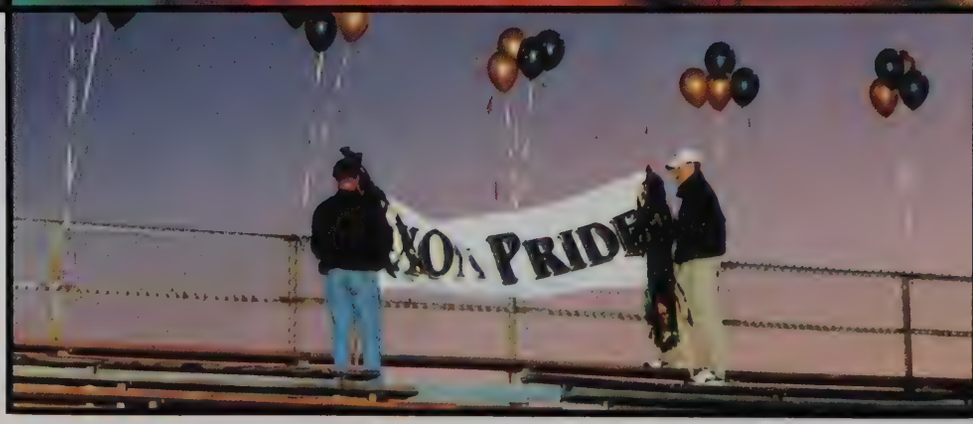
Parents decorate the stands with signs of Saxon pride before the Homecoming game.



Did you Know...?

* Otto got lost on his way to the away game at Broad Run and ended up some - where in West Virginia. "If it wasn't for Saxon Spirit, I would never have gotten out of West Virginia!" exclaimed David Lane at the game.

* The first pep rally was not only the first appearance of Otto but also the first appearance of the Spirit Jail, where unspirited underclassmen were sent to for punishment. Tommy Ritter carried Bobby Minyard off to jail over his head in the first half of the pep rally.

Mr. Harvey, Mr. MacKichan, and JeremyHarvey cheer for their family members who are cheering for the football players.

Lindsay Strunk, as Otto's wife, Olga, gets fired up and cheers with the crowd during the first home game. This was the first year that Otto had a love interest.

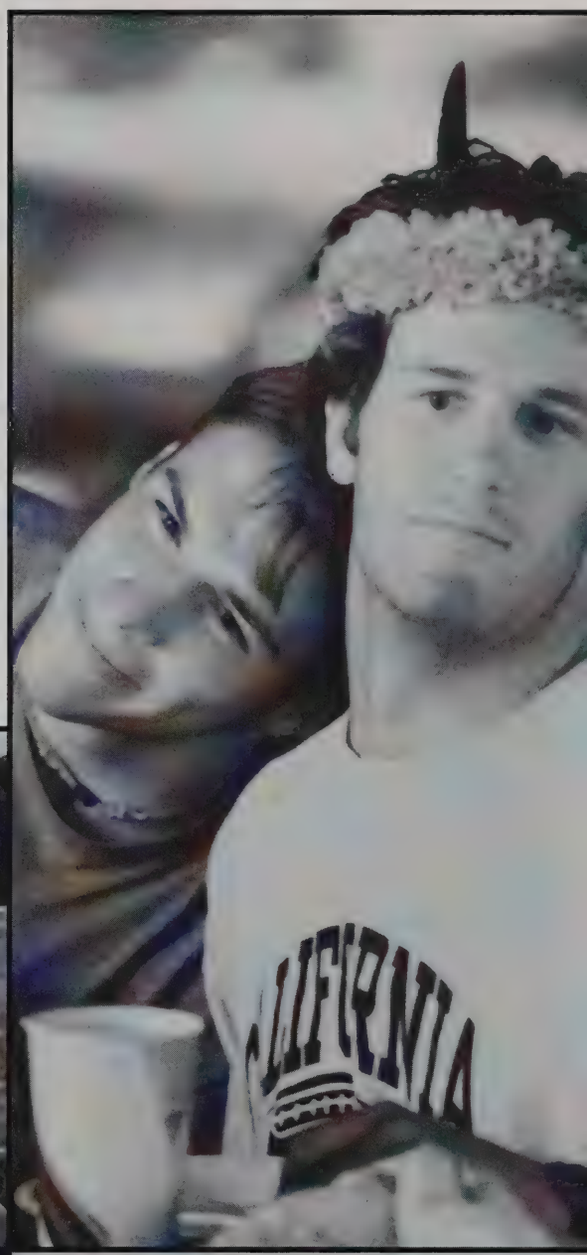
Suzy Harvey, Courtney Zahra, Jaclyn Orr, Melissa Corey, Jenny Gay, and Sarah Kruzel show off their Saxon spirit for the boys' lacrosse team.

Friendships

Did you Know...?

* Preethima Koneru commented, "There are too many memories to pick just one, but I remember the time my friends threw me a surprise party, and I got soaked in the punch.

* Maureen Dillon, Emily Huyler, Kirra O'Toole, Katie Thomas, and Stephanie Schriebman became inseperable after being teammates on the JV field hockey team.



Jaclyn Orr leans on boyfriend Matt Cox. With Orr a cheerleader, and Cox a Football player, the two were the "All- American Couple."

Chris Kan and girlfriend Suzy Harvey share a smile and a joke on the seniors' day off at Festival Lakes.

Hayley Matz gives best friend Allison Hesse a shoulder to lean on. The two have been good friends since sophomore year.

Graham Smith, Robby Miller, and Joey Randhawa go for the Hawaiian look during the senior picnic.

Kathleen Holmes and Kristin Hackenson eagerly await the beginning of the Dave Matthews Band concert.

"Don't mess up!" Andrew Rosendorf tries to distract Ellie Sever from showing off her juggling skills at Club Day in late September.

Chad Tornabeni, Brendan Trossen, and Eric Beal all hang out "in the same circle" during their trip to Festival Lakes.

Weekends
Did you Know...?

* When asked what he does on a regular basis during the weekend, Coach Joey Hite stated, "I enjoy playing with my kitty cats Buster and Mac."

* A little more than half the students surveyed spent approximately $20 per weekend. According to students, shopping, movies, and going out to dinner make up a large part of their spending money.

Chris Grindler, Monica Zuleta-David, Mai Hguyen, Christine Chow, JennyGay, Doni Weinheimer, Suzy Harvey, Brooke Spencer, Jessica Glorioso, and Chris Ground pose for the camera in Nguyen's flower shop before heading out to her birthday dinner at Outback.

Lindsay Strunk and Chris Pickens play with each others' faces. "It's not me, it's the Chubby Baby. Lindsay made me do it," said Pickens.

Kent Martin tries to get Mr. Bear to put the moves on Sabrina Chin. When there weren't any good movies playing, and no one was in the mood for food, spending time at friends' houses was also something students did on their weekends.

Michelle Maiwurm, Chris Kan, Joey Randhawa, Andrew Powars, Elizabeth Villarroel, Phil Jones, and Mike Dowley spend their weekend riding the rides at Busch Gardens.

Megan Lantz and Melody Choong are truly "seniors rocking the dogg house."

Kara McKenzie laughs as Mike Loretta shows off his flashy dance moves.

Traci Maynigo, Karin Lion, and Maryam Gharavi enjoy their picnic at Great Falls Park.

Music
Did you Know...?

* During the summer the Women's Select Treble Choir got a chance to tour around Europe singing, in various countries and towns.

* For the pep rally Peter Lindstadt and Sergio Romano wrote and sang a song that summarized the ups and downs of Spirit Week.

Herb Plimpton practices the guitar to be ready to play for his band No Cash Value.

Lynda Toi makes sure that fher ukelete is in tune before she shows off her talents at the senior class field trip.

During the footbal game, Duncan Jones plays the saxophone, while Daniel Laszewski and Kirk Kimmel play beside him.

Robby Soule plays the drums with his band Label Blue as they perform at a club called the Crossroads.

Cecily Martin takes advantage of the short break between songs to converse with clarient player Emily Primeggia.

The Madrigals stand ready on the track to sing the National Anthem.

Fitness
Did you Know...?

* To get in shape for field hockey, Kristen Hopkins ran four miles a day, five days a week, and never once stopped thinking about her boyfriend Jeff Hanscom.

* Last summer Dave Lane kept in shape by "making the 10 - second jog from the couch to the bathroom during commercials."

Participating in a hula-hoop competition Marielle Hadid rolls her hips to keep the hoop from touching the ground.

This mountain is no challenge for expert biker Joe Garcia.

After catching an awesome pass Sara Rainbolt runs to congratulate her teammates on a great game of Ultimate Frisbee.

Ian Maxwell reaches for the volleyball during an intense game, while on the senior field trip.

Practicing for lacrosse season, Jim Sbarra takes a few shots on the goal.

Alex Wimbush struggles through sit-ups during cross-country practice.

Phil Jones lunges to stop Pat Creedon from scoring in a fun game of soccer.

Sana Hoda, in her native Indian garb, takes great pride in her rich cultural roots and traditions.

Peter Hou, a new student from Taiwan, stands with his friend Tien-Hao Lan infront of CK high school in Taipei.

Sandra Machlitt, an exchange student from Germany, experiences American culture while inspecting the Halloween pumpkins.

Fabian Joas, a German exchange student, enjoys a sailing excursion with his dad off the shores of Croatia.

Did you Know...?

"Schools are a reflection of the communities they serve. Langley is a microcosm of the international population represented in our community. Our student body is a brightly colored tapestry or mosaic, made up of young men and women from many diverse cultures located around the world. Each day, these students join to learn, work, and grow together in harmony."

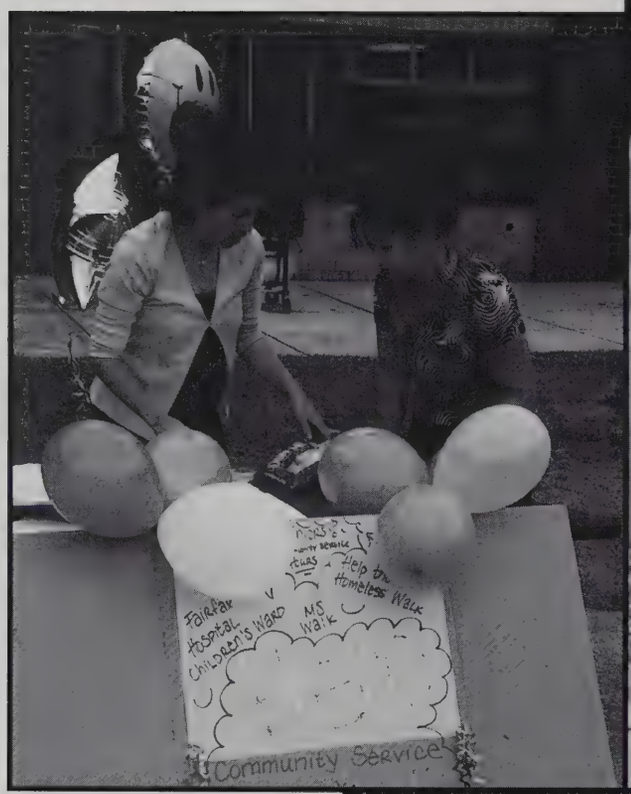
-Mr. Tom Eakin
Assistant Principal

Tomoko Shiotsu, from Japan, learns as much English as she can in her ESL classroom. "Our ESL class is very tiny. It's cool for me."

In our multi-cultural school community, diplomat license plates are a common sight.

While studying in Europe Mina Behsudi finds some time to shop at the outdoor markets.

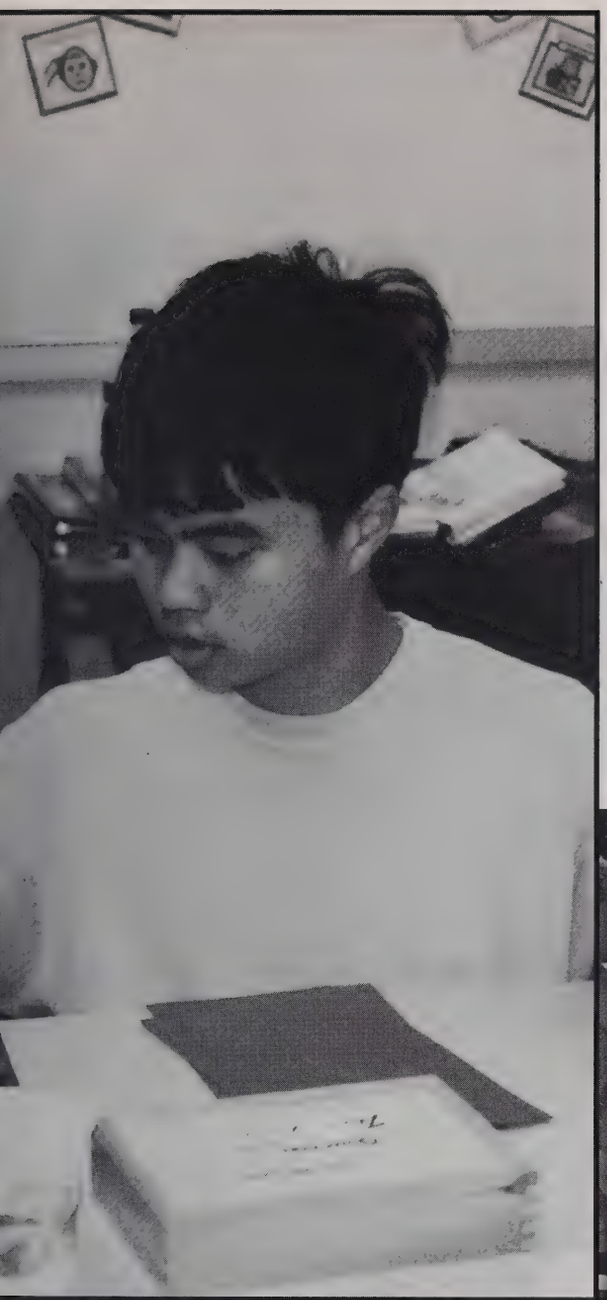
Liz Riegel helps one of the autistic students, Dan Tran, complete his assignment.



Jenny Bach and Janet Ilagan get their stand organized for club day. They are Hero club members and coordinators.

Katie Holden and Lena Munasifi get their hands dirty during the Route 123 trash clean up, sponsored by the Key Club.

Whitney Spivey, Jackie Turaris, and Laura Swickwrath help 5th grade girls learn how to hold their lacrosse sticks.

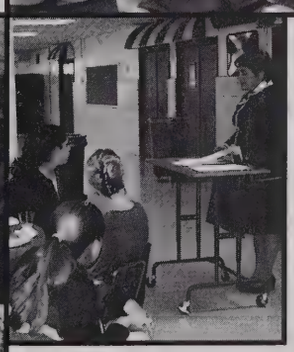


The Service

Did you Know...?

* The Keyettes sponsored the Walk for the Homeless to raise money for the underpriviledged in D.C.

* The class of 2000 wants to do 2000 hours of community service before graduation," said Jane Ngo, class President.



Using her authority, Danielle Howard chooses players to play in the MYI field hockey game.

At a breakfast honoring local employers for their support of Langley students, Diane Pruner (marketing co-ordinator for FCPS)gave an inspirational speech telling the students and employers that they are making a difference.

Sarah MacCarthy and Bill Sontag recruit Jamie Salemand and Alex Sweberg to sign up for Interlinks. Interlinks worked with the autistic students.

Overcome with joy, Courtney Zahra and Hanson Cheng, stand before the crowd as they are announced as Mr. and Mrs. Lovefest.

Patrick Nichols gives a thumbs up to the cheering crowd as he answers ten out of eleven trivia questions correct.

Joey Randawa waits for his cue as he accompanies Courtney Zahra in the song Sweetheart by Mariah Carey.

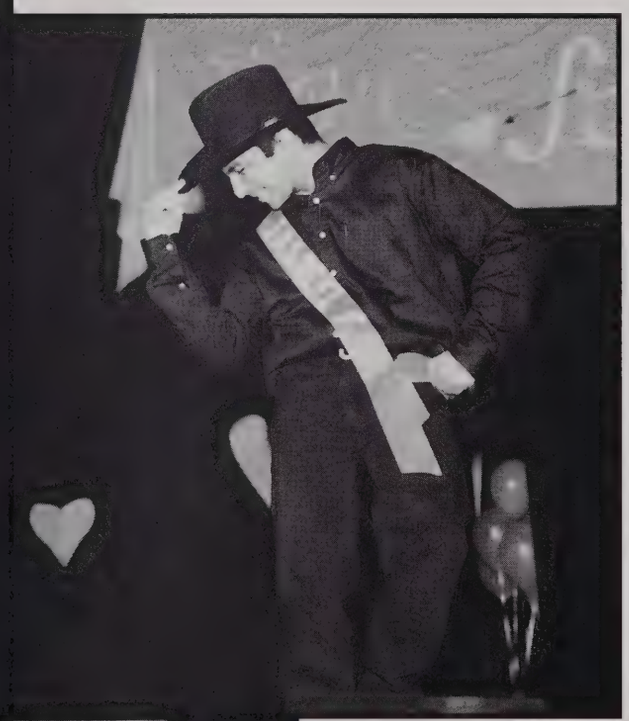
Scary Spice and Baby Spice, or better known as Lisa Medici and Courtney Coleman, tell the audience what they "really, really want!"

Lovefest

Did you Know...

* "The best thing about Lovefest was Kent. He was so hilarious!" said Elizabeth Kriso.

* Pipa Elias commented, "Seeing how many different talents that my friends had that I never knew," was the best thing about Lovefest.



Jameel Farruk demonstrates how this contest is done in the Wild West.

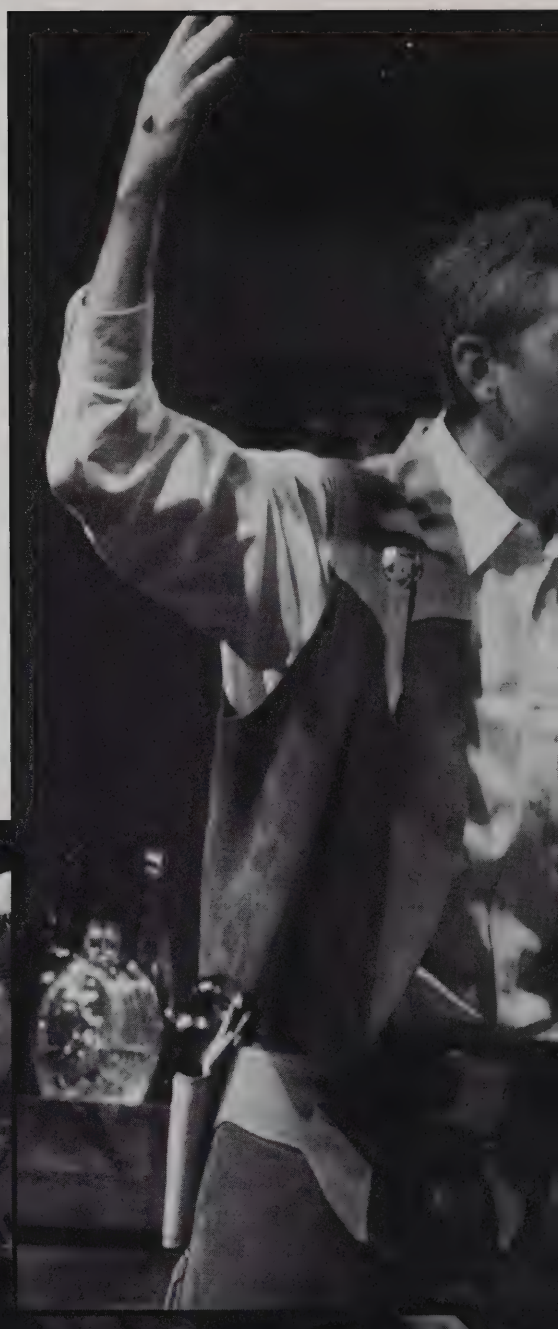
Ashley O'Banion shows her talent as she portrays her best Brittany Spears impression.

Connor Schmitt and Suzanne Medici show the audience how good they look in the evening wear contest.

Drama Play
Deadwood Dick

* Beth Moorhead said, "I think my favorite part was the fact that I got to stand on the bar with a hatchet, but everyone was absolutely amazing."

* Casted as the leads were Lisa Medici, Mark Massey, Andrew Kilpatrick, Clay Lee, Beth Moorhead, Lara Guroff, Lacey Roddick, Lydia Graham, Charlie Tysse, Chris Piper, and Brendan Piper.



During their scene, Allie Raether, Evan Ayars, Lydia Graham, Julie Warren, and Ellie Sever sit at a table wearing the perfect ensemble for their part.

With the spotlight on Andrew Kilpatrick, he almost looks like the Deadwood Dick.

Lydia Graham tells Mark McCormick and Lacey Roddick that she must sing.

During one of the many rehearsals of the play, Charlie Tysse perfects his gun move on Mark Massey.

Lacey Roddick, Clay Lee, and Mark Massey discuss who is the real Dead Wood Dick.

While Lara Guroff talks about her love, Mark Massey, she smiles with adorement.

While meeting up with Andrew Kilpatrick in "Calamity Jane's Mantrap Saloon," Janet Ilagan turns to the citizens of Deadwood Gulch.

PEOPLE

It was the beginning for new people and familiar faces to gather together under one common roof. Each one with different interests and abilities. Individuality was emphasized by appearance and behavior. Each student had their own unique schedule of activities during and after school. However, they were always able to meet up with their friends throughout the day. About three hundred and sixty seniors finally realized that they would be splitting apart and doing their own thing. All of them remembering the one common place.

Forever young

May your wishes all come true,
May you always do for others
And let others do for you.
May you build a ladder to the stars
And climb on every rung,
May you stay forever young.
May you grow up to be righteous,
May you grow up to be true,
May you always know the truth
And see the lights surrounding you.
May you always be courageous,
Stand upright and be strong,
May you stay forever young.
May your hands always be busy,
May your feet always be swift,
May you have a strong foundation
When the winds of changes shift.
May your heart always be joyful,
May your song always be sung,
May you stay forever young.

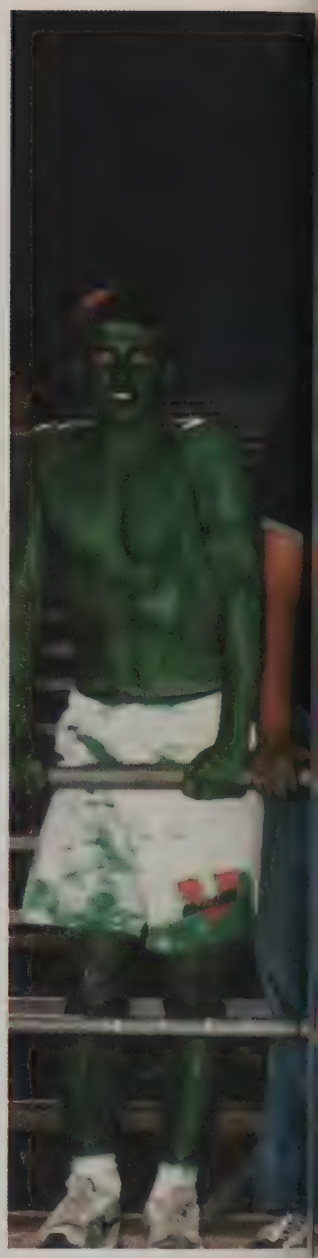
Chapter Review

"Whether you've known one another for one year, or you've known one another since grade school the friendships that you've established here will last a lifetime." ~ Sarah Kruzel



Do you remember what eighth grade science was like? By the smiles of Abby Crone and Jon Veal's, the class was fun.

Milica Stamenich, Jillian Bardnell, Camelia Gharai, Nasreen Alkateeb and Jill Jensen take a break in the cafeteria at Cooper Middle School in eighth grade.

Joe Garcia, Mike Stoppelman and Dustin Chambers show off their goofy faces in sixth grade.

Bryant Stone, Colleen Shea, Clark Cogan, Lisa Medici, Lara Guroff, David Kochba, Patrick McKinley, and Courtney Coleman before they go off to prom their junior year.

Ian Maxwell, Reza Zeinalian, Ryan Hansen, Brian Pesci, Tommy Ritter and Eric Beal show their spirit at a lacrosse game, their junior year.

Ronny Wood, Tony Heinle, Andrew Bray, Paul Macguire and Ted McCarty show off their bald heads which they shaved before their freshmen year.

Jaclyn Orr and Suzy Harvey spend the day together before the start of their freshmen year. The two have remained good friends since then.

Darcy Savit's true colors are shining through on her sophonore year homecoming spirit week.

What has changed in the past 4 years?

Jihan Salem experiences the chance of a lifetime with Matt Damon in Italy.

What's the question?

If you could do anything, what would you do?

"I would fly first class on the Concord to Europe, and spend the rest of the day shopping."

Beth Pederson '01

"I would play on the US Women's Ice Hockey Team, win a couple of gold medals, have five husbands at the same time, and then retire to become a nomad in a nice log cabin in the Alps."

Laura Evancich '01

"Take over the world and then move to Paris."

What's the question?

What is the biggest difference between your home country and the US?

"There are a lot of differences. In Brazil, we don't have cold winters. At school we don't change classes, instead the teachers change classes. We go to night clubs and our curfews are later"

Mariana Bernardina '99

"The biggest difference I've found in this country is the time spent in school. In Italy we go to school from nine to one, and then we have the rest of the day off. Its nice because during this time we can meet with friends, practice sports, go to discos,etc. Unfortunately we go to high school for six days, and for five years!"

Third period is english, there's a peer helping meeting during lunch, and a test in seventh period on biology. After school, the prom committee i s meeting to discuss decorations. Five days a week, seven periods a day, whether its hanging flyers on the bulletin boards to announce the french club's potluck dinner, or working with a teacher on that geometry problem, students' school days often started before the first morning bell, and would go till the four o'clock late buses. The days were more than seven periods long. With all the club and academic commitments, there was always a Sequel to the students' days, after the last bell had rung...

Honor Societies

FYI

National Honor Sociey: Rinaldo Baietti, the President, states "The National Honor Society is a very positive aspect of Langley. Not only do we uphold the beliefs of the Honor Code, but we also reach out to serve our community."

Tri-M: "Tri-M is a great club made up of the best musicians in the school. The members are talented and some of the best people around," said Zeina Saliba.

Thespians: Clayton Comstock commented, "To be involved with Thespians one must be included in the numerous plays within our school and also have experience with all parts of the stage."

Quill & Scroll: "Quill & Scroll, the literary honor society, is composed mainly of journalists from the Saxon Scope. It recognizes persons who have made a committment to the field of writing," said Megan Foley.

Spanish Honor Society: Karin Lion, the President, commented, "We are tutoring students in spanish, helping the victims of Hurricane Mitch in Nicaragua and Honduras, and caring for Spanish children at a monthly legal clinic."

French Honor Society: Sarah Kruzel, President, said, "We have activities monthly. The activities range from picnics at Great Falls Park or movies at a members' house."

German Honor Society: "Our honor society gets together and participates in AIDS walk, or making Easter baskets for needy kids, or hostying an exchange program for German students. We like to make ourselves noticed in the community," said Joanne Fujito.

National Honor Society: Rinaldo Baietti (President), Julie Warren (Vice President), Mary Ellen Stefano (Treasurer), Amy Tan (Secretary).

Languages

Clubdemics...

FYI

French: The French Club celebrated Kings Day in which they ate cake with a ring inside. Whomever found the ring, was either King or Queen for the day. Rebecca Kristol was crowned queen.

German: Eric Rupinski said, "I took German to get to know all the hot girls."

Latin: Mr. Horton, the Latin teacher, focused part of the course on Greece and Greek mythology.

International: JJ Ayars said, "If communication isn't key to success, then our club is temporarily locked outside."

Spanish: The Spanish Club did a variety of service activities, such as a clothes drive and toys for tots. With over 150 members, help was easy to find.

Russian: The Club met once or twice a month in room 247. An art exhibit was held in Delaware featuring art of Nicholas and Alexandria. Russian students were encouraged to attend.

Japanese: The Club met every Monday and regularly had games, guest speakers, and went on trips. One such activity was the Japanese bowl, where students were able to win prizes by bowling.

The final shot. The final goal. The final cheer. The final hit. Whether it's the triple over-time where the Varisty Football team reigned victorious over Lee, or the Rotary Cup loss that the Field Hockey team had to endure to their arch rivals, the McLean Highlanders, these final moments will always be remembered. From the time when an athlete encounters his or her first contest, to that final point of the final game, a new chapter is opened, and eventually closed. Chapters whose pages contain stories of commitment, dedication, victory and defeat. Chapters about the beginning, the end...The Final Score

Character

Varsity Football

With the seniors leading the way, the varsity football team strode for excellence.

"IT IS ALL ABOUT CHARACTER, and commitment to excellence that comes with a relentless will to succeed." Those were the mottoes that the varsity team modeled themselves on. The team was very dedicated to working hard.

"A strong core of seniors provided leadership and pulled the team together throughout the season," commented seniors Steve Hale, Tommy Ritter, and Eric Beal. The team had twenty-four seniors this year, more than Langley has ever had. Each one held the position of captain. "We had a great senior class that provided good leadership and played really well," said head coach Bill Renner.

Langley was led by two quarterbacks, senior Chad Tornabeni and junior Jack Urbanski. The team also depended on junior Kent Martin to run the ball and a strong defense to back him up. The team had great enthusiasm, a willingness to fight hard, and the ability to win tough games.

Mentality

Football

Coaching was the key factor in the success of the JV and Freshmen teams.

IN EARLY AUGUST over 100 athletes went out to fill the positions on the JV and Freshmen football teams. With a total of eight coaches, the players were never unguided. "Football isn't about football coaches, it's about kids doing more than what is expected and living their dreams to be successful. Success doesn't always come today. Football is like the game of life," said coach Jim Jones.

The teams worked very hard every day at practice and it showed during the games. "Football is so mental," said Joey Rainey. a freshman. "You really have to want it."

Commitment

Varsity Cheerleading

Commitment was a word that was often heard around the cheerleaders during their practices. This was shown in their Monday through Saturday practices, not including the four morning practices where the cheerleaders had to be at school at 6:15 A.M. Mrs. Susan Broad taught, "to have commitment in our stunts, and most of all commitment in our squad" says cheerleader Beth Anne Morgan.

Dynamite

Cheerleading

We're dynamite. We're dynamite.
We're tick, tick, tick, tick,
Boom....

THEY WERE THE JV and Freshmen cheerleading squads. They were dedicated, spirited, athletic, and proud Saxons. They were on the track or in the gymnasium during all the football games, cheering for their teams and getting the spectators involved.

The JV squad was coached by Leah Moore, and led by tri-captains Rebecca Kristol, Jenni Wheat, and Katie Hogan. This year the squad had a special edition, a male cheerleader Matt Rowen, who contributed to the success.

The Freshmen squad was coached by Heidi Cutler and led by tri-captains Kristen Smith, Fegari Redman, and Rachel Snyder. Both the JV and Freshmen cheerleaders attended cheerleading camp at the University of Delaware from August 12-15 in preparation for the season. It was a strenuous and fun learning experience for all.

Energy

Dance Team

Hard training, school spirit, and a close team relationship all contributed to the success of the team.

"THE TWO YEARS I've been on the dance team, my self-confidence has gone way up," said Ana Conceicao. Conceicao, along with the rest of the girls, felt that being on the team boosted her self- esteem and created new friendships.

Practices every Monday, Wednesday, and Thursday from 3:15 to 6:00 p.m. allowed the team to work together on their routines. Home varsity games were a chance for the team to show off what they had put together the week before.

In addition to working on their moves and choreographing their routines, staying fit was also a key part of training. Running a mile before practice every day helped the dancers to stay in shape.

Another benefit of being on the dance team was that it gave the dancers a chance to be included in school activities. "As the only freshman on the team, being on the dance team helped me get involved with Langley," said Ingrid Chowrimootoo.

Teamwork

Field Hockey

With the same coach for four years, the seniors led the team to a great season.

"We always kept our spirits up," stated Varsity captain Maura Green after having a disappointing season. Double overtime became a routine for the girls this year, yet it was obvious that they never let up. The hockey girls were always easily heard as they cheered during their practices and games.

Michelle Maiwurm, Katie Holden, and Kara McKenzie - the top scorers this year - who helped lead the team to their two wins against Marshall and Madison. Six of the nine seniors had Terri Keranen as their coach for four years. "It was great when Terri moved up to varsity with us. Over the years, the team has grown closer and closer," commented senior Barrie Charapp.

The team worked hard on stick work, running, and offensive and defensive drills this year. "Physically, we had a lot of endurance." stated junior Jaclyn Pierce. "We were crucial!" stated junior Amber Roth. The girls' tough season didn't stop them from playing hard and having tons of fun as a team.

Perserverance

Tennis

The girls' perserverance earned them third place in the Liberty District.

THE GIRLS TENNIS TEAM had another great season, under the guidance of new head coach Bill Stern. Stern had been teaching as a pro at Cardinal Hill and Regency Sport and Health Club. He made them practice hard every day to improve their game.

That guidance, along with the leadership of co-captains Mai Nguyen and Mary Ellen Stefanou, helped the team claim their third-place title in the district competition.

"The key reason to our success this year was our team's unity," commented Stefanou. Even with so many tough competitors, such as Madison and McLean, the team was able to make it to the semi-finals.

Consistency

Golf

With the best record in a decade the Saxons golf team definitely gaves us a season to remember.

"THERE IS ALWAYS A FIRST TIME FOR EVERYTHING," said junior captain Andrew Vitali, concerning the 1998 season. The Saxons went 8-0 during the regular season, won their first district team title since 1988, and made the regional tourney.

The team was led by captains Pat Loftus, Jimmy Rossi, Austin Johnson, Kurt Wessel, and runner-up in the district individual title, Andrew Vitali. The team also beat big-time rival Madison for the first time in 14 years.

This was also the first year that girls competed on the team. Tami Levin and Briana Elzey showed great heart and dedication in playing to the best of their abilities.

In just three years as the head coach Al Berg was recognized as one of the best coaches in the area, for having turned the program into a top contener. Not only did he make the golf team a top contender in the district, but he also produced a top team for Langley.

Lying in the rough, Jimmy Rossi trys to punch his way onto the fairway.

Endurance

Cross Country

The team stayed ahead of the race even with many new members.

HEAD COACH MIKE MANGAN expressed that, "This team has been very successful and will continue to be so in the future because of the diverse participation from all the classes."

One of their hardest courses was a 5k called the Salasianum of Delaware. With only half of their varsity runners present, the girls placed 5th and the boys placed 7th in this race. They were competing with 25 other teams, some of whom are state and nationally ranked. Throughout districts the team performed favorably overall.

Before school started most of the young team attended a running camp to get them in shape for their fall season. "The team really bonded at camp, which helped us develop a really strong team," explained junior Stephanie Milbergs.

Even though we were very young, and only had 5 returning players with varsity experience, we are much faster than past years. We had many good shooters. We recieved many contributions from younger players. Our district was very balanced this year with at least five teams that were challenging for the District title.

Excellence

Boys Varsity Basketball

Langley Saxons continue their pursuit of excellence.

The 1999 Basketball team continued its pursuit of excellence and their third district title in a row. Going into the season, the team was looked upon as weaker than previous years because of the loss of key seniors last year. The critics were proven wrong by great senior leadership and also great underclassmen who had dominated at the JV and Freshman levels.

The senior leadership was led by co-captians Chad Tornabeni and Charles Bryant, Robby Gonzalez, Robby Miller, and Ali Daneshzadeh. Charles Bryant attributes their success to "Team unity on the court and off."

Pressure

Boys JV/ Freshmen Basketball

All of the hard work in practice paid off for the JV and Freshman teams as they finished on top of the Liberty District.

BOTH THE JV TEAM AND FRESHMEN TEAM had winning seasons. The JV team had most of the same guys from the team last year with the help of junior, Ryan Taliaferro, sophomore, Austin Davis, and sophomore Pat Neuman. The Freshmen team had a lot of talent, some great ball handlers, and most of all, determination.

Because of the tremendous coaching by JV's Eric McCann and Freshmen's Steve Plunkett, both teams had the ability to play together as a team, work the ball around the perimeter, and put pressure on defense. Connor Schmitt commented "I liked Coach Plunkett's pep talks. They got me pumped." Langley basketball has a promising future with all the talent on the JV and Freshmen teams.

Victory

Girls Varsity Basketball

With a new coach, the Lady Saxons worked harder to achieve greatness.

FOR THE LADY SAXONS, it was a season of change. Cheryl Buffo was appointed the new head coach and brought with her a different philosophy of basketball. She used a great amount of discipline and believed, "If you continue to do what you've always done, you'll continue to get what you've always gotten."

Under the leadership of captains Sarah MacCarthy, Annie Galovich and Lindsay Strunk, the Lady Saxons worked together to give defending District Champions Madison, a run for their money. "They have, and will always be, our top competition," said Strunk, a four year varsity player.

"Finally we brought Madison's eleven year winning streak to an end in the Liberty District Tournament Championship. With an outstanding fourth quarter performance, we maintained the lead from early on in the second quarter. We just believed we could do it, and we did," stated captains Sarah MacCarthy, Lindsay Strunk, and Annie Galovich.

SWISH....Put it in....We want a win

IT WAS A TEAM OF new beginnings. Under the guidance of a new coach, Nadine Hetman, the whole new crop of freshmen athletes, all worked together to prove that even though the teammates hadn't been playing together for very long, they could still have a winning season. Captains Aislinn Connolly and Kelly Kolker continuously showed strong leadership and helped guide the young team. "The team got along so well, and we all had so much fun playing together," said Alissa Wulff.

"Experience was what our team had, and we just worked so well together," said second year Meredith "smiley" Thompson. This was very true as the J.V. girls stomped over the other teams showing everyone who's boss. "The girls worked extra hard in the practices and their determination showed in the games," commented Coach Kulp.

Wrestling

Even though some wrestlers did not return this year, there are many young additions to the team, which made for a strong JV, as well as Varsity

THE SAXON WRESTLING TEAM improved this year and finished with a winning record. The team opened the season with a good performance in one of the local tournaments. With many returning wrestlers and many new talented addtions, the team won more dual meets than in previous years. "We had a lot of injuries this year but we were able to over come them and do well individually as well as a team," said co-captain Jeffrey Keen.

In the Bishop Ireton Tournament the Saxons placed third, and in the NOVA Classic, they placed in the top half of the thirty-two teams which competed.

Wrestling has become more of a popular sport this year than it has been in the past years. "This year we acutally had fans out in the stands, instead of just parents," commented Donnie Weinheimer. Many people wrestled for the same reason that Tommy Ritter does, "I like to wrestle mainly because I like to hurt people."

Swim and Dive

With great senior leadership and incredible underclass talent, the Swim and Dive team attempted to repeat last years achievements.

SWIM AND DIVE STARTED of the season with a splash. Their first three meets were won by over 200 points. The Girl's Swim and Dive team won states last year, and aimed to do it again. "We've got so much young and old talent," said senior Elizabeth Villaroel.

Jill Jensen, a four year swimmer said that "the most exhilarating part of being on the Swim team was the jump into the cold water before practice or a meet."

"The best thing about Swim and Dive is the coaches. Eric and Christan make it all worth while," said junior Justin Stephenson. "The coaches expected to bring the team back to win the Virginia Title again," commented Mike Dowley.

Flexibility

Girls Gymnastics

Hard work, dedication, and new faces all contributed to a winning season.

THIS YEAR'S TEAM had a fun and successful season due to hard work and cooperation. New additions were made to the team, such as assistant coach Tia Hall, as well as two talented freshmen, that helped the team throughout the season.

The girls practiced every weekday for two hours, and competed on Wednesdays and Thursdays. "I think it's great that the entire team puts in so much effort," said captain Emily Barker.

"Our team has a tradition that we preserve at every meet," said Colleen Parnell, "Before we begin, we always do a spirit check. Someone yells, 'Spirit Check,' and everyone else claps and cheers. I think it's very motivational and it shows how much we support our school and care about our team."

All that effort was reflected in the gymnastis routines in competitions. The overall scores were fantastic. "The season was fantastic!" commented Dana Baione.

Dedication

Indoor Track

Take your mark... get set... go!

Sprinters, throwers, jumpers, hurdlers, vaulters, and long distance runners. Those were the six groups of athletes that made up Langley's Indoor Track team this season. The pole vaulters were the newest addition to the team, but after learning the technique from head coach Mike Mangan, several school records were set.

These six groups - all together forming a team of over 100 athletes - worked hard and dedicated themselves to doing their best. Coach Margie Stanmeyer commented, "Track can seem very individualized because of all the different events. It was great to see everyone come together as one team and represent the Saxons well."

Stamina

Boys Lacrosse

The stamina that the team possessed led the boys through a successful season.

"THAT'S CRUCIAL!" said Alex Ritterbush just after he saw Jim Sbarra score the first goal in the team's opening scrimmage against Woodson High School.

With 90 people trying out for the team this year, cuts had to be made for the first time in the team's history. Fortunately, none of the 16 seniors trying out were cut.

Led by captains Jim Sbarra, Andrew Bray and Ted McCarty, the team had a remarkable season, even after losing the majority of last year's starting lineup. Senior Ryan Singer, a transfer who was new to the team this year said, "This team has surprised a lot of people. The team is very close and everyone works with one goal in mind, and that's to win."

Rebuilding

Girls Lacrosse

With the loss of 13 seniors from last year's team, the '99 girls looked to win the district with young talent.

NOT EVEN THE STORM OF '99 could suppress the momentum of the girl's lacrosse team as they won their first scrimmage in commanding fashion. With many practices canceled or rescheduled inside the gym, the two teams managed to stay focused and got prepared for their season.

With the new coaching staff, headed by Gen Grandison, who was taking a semester off from Harvard where she also played lacrosse, the girls were indeed in good hands.

The girls were led by three year varsity players Emily Walker, Michelle Maiwurm and strong senior Katharine Jensen. Jensen returned for her fourth and final year as the team's starting center. Juniors Amber Roth, and Alix Van Opstal anchored as strong defense players. Together, the teams rebuilt and sought their goals for the district title.

Strength

Crew

With the loss of only two seniors, the girls varsity boat had a strong season.

DESPITE THE COLD winter weather, the crew team practiced everyday in the water. The team traveled to the Occoquan every day for their hard and often painful practices. Before the season began, Kelly Neuman remarked, "We are determined to win all our major races, and we should. We lost only two seniors, so our girls varsity boat is pretty much the same as last year."

With their captains John Critchfield, Courtney Dahl, Chris Han, and Lauren Platenberg, the skill and determination came a little more naturally as each season comes. The team is very closely knit, it is almost like a family. "I love crew because of the challenge, the changing scenery, the excitement, the people, and the old friends," said Jason Kolaitis.

"MAD EXPERIENCE," commented Jonathan Shernit on the eight key players returning from last year's regional team.

Daryl Turner commented, "We have a really experienced team, as most of us have been together for three or four years." The team was full of skilled players, all of which showed strong leadership to carry the team far.

Jeff Hanscom explained, "This year, we have shown our skill and what we are all capable of doing."

Proficiency

Softball

The softball team relied on their ability on the field to help them through another great season.

THE SAXONS HAD A LOT to handle with the opening of the new season. The girls faced the loss of Coach Dean Ferrington, two of their starting pitchers, and two of the eight returning players due to injury. Yet through it all, the team still ended the season on top.

Captains Maura Green and Katie Holden, both four-year varsity players, held the team together throughout the season. The new coach, Tracy Ferguson, who had years of experience coaching some of the best teams in Texas, quickly won the hearts of many of the players. "We were looking forward to our new coach to lead us to many victories," said Holden.

Both the JV and Varsity teams put in 100% effort to bring about a successful season.

WITH THREE NEW ADDITIONS to the team, sophomores Craig Myers, Steve Hixon, and Barret Belair, the varsity team held a promising lineup. Belair said, "We have a lot of talent this year, especially with strong senior leadership."

After losing almost half of last year's team to the graduating class, eleven seniors returned this season, giving the team a lot of fresh talent. This new experience helped contribute a lot to the successful season.

The JV team was equally successful. Returning from last year, Brad Bensten said, "We were successful because of the dedication and knowledge of our coaches, Murray and Hoy."

Superiority

Girls Soccer

Superior ability and endurance helped the girls soccer team achieve a winning season.

The Langley girls soccer program got off to a great start this year. The varsity team adjusted quickly to their new coach, Melissa Kulp, while the junior varsity team got a fresh start with coach Gigi Romaro. "We worked to our fullest potential this season. We knew we were returning with a strong team, after losing only two seniors, and adding two capable freshmen." said Coach Kulp.

Maintaining their reputation as one of the top teams in the district required hard work and dedication from all players. "We had a successful season because we worked together as a team and played with our hearts," explained sweeper Susanne Huntington. One of the most notable victories for the varsity team was their 2-1 win over local rivals, the McLean Highlanders.

"The team really bonded this season. The closeness allowed us to anticipate each others' moves, giving us an advantage over our opponents," said senior Abby Crone. Finishing with a winning season, the Lady Saxons are looking forward to continuing their legacy next year.

Courtney Kolker makes a break from her opponents, quickly dribbling the ball down the field.

Captains: Amelia Thompson, Nadia Tahmassian

Our team was amazing! Everyone on the team contributed to our success. Not only were we talented on the field with great forwards, two awesome center mids, half-backs, and a strong defense, but we were all very close off the field as well. We bonded so well together. We know you guys will continue to be amazing next year. We will never forget this season. Good luck next year! We will miss you! Thanks Coach K!

With their ability to play, and their willingness to succeed, the team aced the season.

WITH ONLY THREE RETURNING seniors, the team had to depend a lot on younger players. With a new coach, Cardinal Hill pro Bill Stern, the team aced the season.

The team practiced hitting the ball and playing matches during daily practices. "Although we had to play challenge matches during practice, we always forgot about those matches when practice was over. We always played our best to win, but the matches didn't affect our relationships off the court," assured sophomore Steve Koo. "Our team was very special because of the close friendships on the team," said senior captain Gary Koo.

Roger Pastore, Mike Bevels, Brent Kaye, Iqram Magdon-Ismail, Julianno Mattos, and David Appelman made up the starting singles lineup. Along with the captains, the starting six led the team to a successful season.

Captains: Michael Ton and Andrew Centofante

The Italian Stalian and the Asian Invasion have taken the bars by storm. Even with the loss of Beef, Stinky Feet and the rest of the crew, we tore it up all season. Even the new members of the team mastered the events. Our coach, Carolyn Komich, and the effort of the whole team have created an excellent season. What sets us apart from other sports teams at LHS, is the surprising unity and bond.

Nothing breaks Michael Ton concentrates as he practices his routine on the pommel horse.

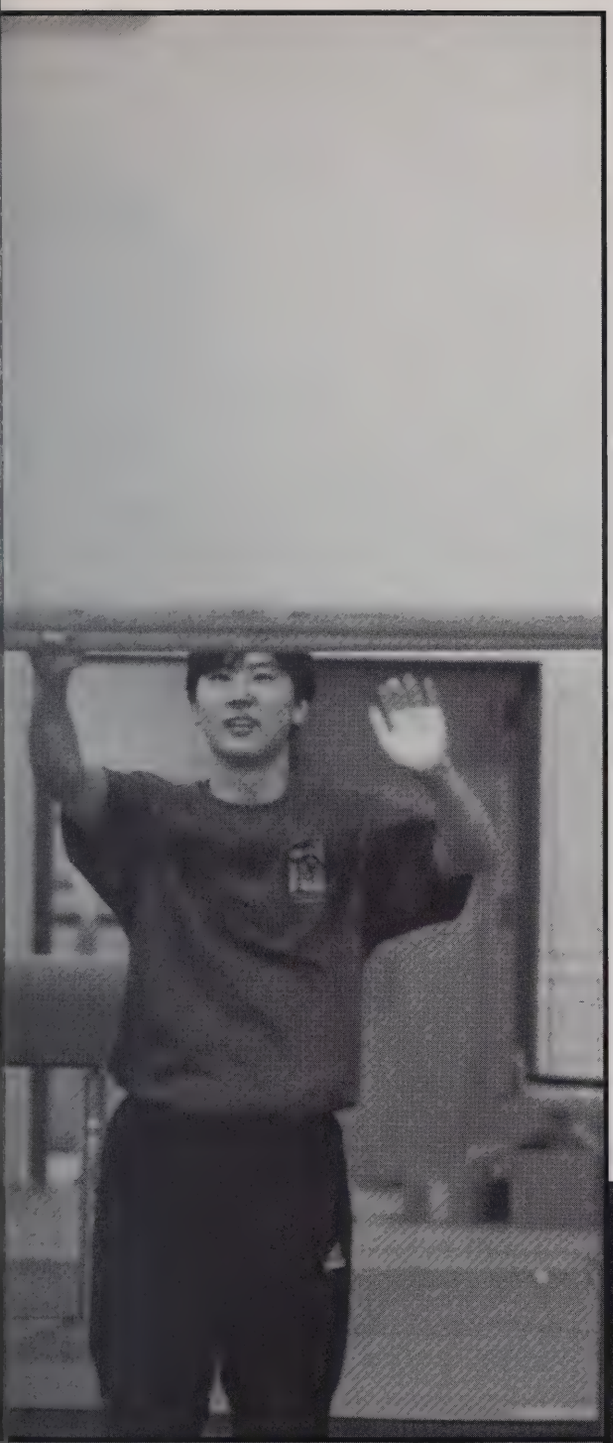
Stuart Shroff warms up before practice. Stretching was a necessity before and after every practice.



Unity
Boys Gymnastics

This year's boys gymnastics team was tightly bonded together with their team spirit.

THE SMALL TEAM of six boys practiced daily on three out of six events. They all worked hard to excell in all six events; the floor, pommel horse, vault, high bar, rings, and parallel bars.

Returning team member Andrew Centofante said, "We worked hard so we had a successful season." This year was the first time a meet was ever held at Langley. Michael Ton described the team as being very close. "We have great team unity," he explained.

The boys compensated for their weakness in numbers by showing off their great strength and ability.

Perfection

Track and Field

A group of strong athletes, the Saxon runners were ready to learn and compete in the Spring Season.

AFTER A SUCCESSFUL winter season and a large number of returning athletes, the spring track team was ready to join distance runners Alex Bagden, Billy Bylund, Tom Ellis, Matthew Gilna, Alex Leader, and Leslie Schultz on the long road to victory.

It was not only the runners that were looking forward to a prospective spring season. Karin Lion and All-State shot putter Bendan Callahan lead the throwers under the guidance of shot put coach Todd Georgelas. Mark Kupets and Lauren McKissick were not only strong runners for the Saxon track team, but also headed off the high jump, pole vault, and hurdle teams.

Emily Tavoulareas also led the long and triple jumpers down the runway for some amazing jumps. Coach Mike Mangan commented, "This year's team had many young athletes who will be the future of the program. If they can learn from the strong leadership of our seniors, we will have a great season next year as well."

Helping Hands

Trainers

The athletic teams depended on the helping hands of the trainers.

ONE OF THE GREATEST ASSETS to Langley's athletic department is its dedicated team of trainers. The trainers were led by head trainer, Chris Corona. They were always on hand to help athletes at practices and games, virtually becoming part of the team themselves.

"Being a trainer is fun because it gives me an opportunity to meet lots of people. It will definitely pay off later because I plan on majoring in sports medicine in college," commented trainer Abbey Steel.

Many students have the opportunity to learn about sports injuries through Mrs. Shiflett's sports medicine class. Sophomore, Lissie Fleshman, who took the class this past year said, "Sports medicine helps me to become a better trainer because it gives me the opportunity to learn more about injuries as well as the various treatments."

Dear Jaclyn,

Just Yesterday you were but a little girl with beautiful blonde curls and hazel eyes. You gave us wet, sloppy kisses. You were curious with a strong will. You had a musical belly laugh. You looked at us with those tiny eyes and reached out for our guidance with your tiny hands. We blinked. As our eyes opened, a young woman was revealed. You have now begun to look beyond us, and toward the future.

We are so proud of your strong character, your strong beliefs, your sensitivity, your humor, and your love of family and friends. We are proud of all your accomplishments. Always believe in yourself, as we believe in you. Now go forth and conquer the world! Remember that we will always be with you.

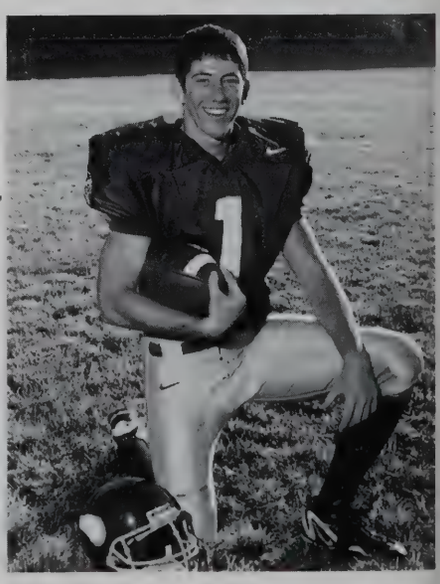
Matthew, you have filled our hearts with happiness and pride, and given us 17 years of warm, loving memories to treasure. May the years ahead fulfill all your hopes and dreams. Thank you for giving us the oppurtunity to proudly say, "That's our son."
Love, Mom and Dad

Matt, Although we may not tell you how we feel, we hope you'll always know how much we love you. As our big brother, you've been a special part of our lives. We'll miss you while you're away at school. Don't worry, we'll take good care of your room.
Love, Meghan, Morgan, Nathan and Caitlin.



Kristen,

This past year has been the best one of my life, and I know that its only been the beginning. Without you I'd be lost. You are the star of my life, and the greatest thing that's ever happened to me! I want you to know that I love you more..... than anything!!!

Love, Jeff

Jeff,

There is so much I could say to you. You have made all my dreams come true. We are so perfect together. I have never met anyone who I have cared about as much as I care about you. You are my best friend and you are irreplaceable. There are no words to describe how much I love you and how much I will treasure all our incredible memories. Since the day we first met, I knew we would be something special, and we always will be. We're the best!!! I love you more than anything! Love, Kristen

Dear Son,
I'm so proud of you. From the time you were two I knew you ahd a direction. You followed your dreams and believed they would come true and they have. Your dad and I hope that the next four years will fulfill your dreams to your next level. We're behind you one hundred percent in your endeavors. Enjoy college, enjoy life.
I love you.- Mom

Dear Chris,
It doesn't seem all that long ago that you and your brother were those mischievous little tug rats who were always very curious about most everything. We took you to water babies and you swam underwater the first time like a little fish. School has gone by so quickly; Springhill, Cooper and now Langley. You've had some ups and downs but always managed to work your way through life's little difficulties and come out stronger from the experience. I'm very proud of you of all you've accomplished. Most of all I'm proud of the person you've become. You have values and a code of ethics that will serve you well your whole life.

You and I have become very close friends during the past couple of years. As excited as i am for you to go off to college next year, I will miss the time we spend together each day. The conversations on everything imaginable. The worries and concerns. Your plans for the future. Yo've worked very had and you deserve the success that I'm sure will come your way. I wish you all the luck in the world. Love, Dad

It doesn't seem so long ago you were a little girl asking why?
And we tried to have the answer.
You got a little older and asked how?
And we tried to find the answer.
Then you grew into a young lady and asked why not?
We made sure we had the answer.
Now you've grown, your future's ahead and we're asking where?
But the tide has turned, we don't know; YOU will find the answer.

We are so proud of you,
With love,

You have been more than a sister to me. You've always been there when I needed you. You've been such a good influence (bailing me out of trouble so many times) I don't know where I'd be without you. I'm going to miss you.... but when you do leave, please remember all the good times: roller skating in the garage 'til dark, singing to Little Mermaid 'til we fell asleep, the ride to school in the morning. Thanks for everything Liz. I hope you had the time of your life.I know you'll be ok wherever you go because you're amazing like that! Good luck, I know you'll be a success wherever you go and in whatever you do.

Jason:

I very much appreciate and admire how you completed your high school education. The way in which you balanced the wide variety of demands on your time seemed like an art form -- constantly changing, sometimes difficult to interpret, but always reflecting the same fundamental values. As you begin college, the decisions you will make are no more difficult than those you have already made. Although they may appear to be more important, you will realize someday that they are not. You have already made key decisions that define who you are and now is the time to learn more about subjects and people that interest you. You have my unwavering support and unconditional love in whatever you decide to do. You are the kind of son that most fathers can only dream about. I am very proud of you.

Dad

Jason,

"Another turning point, a fork stuck in the road. Time grabs you by the wrist, directs you where to go. So make the best of this test and don't ask why. It's not a question but a lesson learned in time. It's something unpredictable but in the end is right. I hope you had the time of your life."

Dear Andrew,

Where do I start? I will never forget the first day of school a year and a half ago when you strolled into art twenty minutes late, sitting down, only to look up and catch each others' eyes and lock something into our hearts that we will have forever. What I thought only started out as a crush, ended up to be the love of a lifetime. We've been through so much already that there is no challenge that the future may hold that we can't make it through. I will always love you MORE and don't you ever forget that I Love You.

Forever Yours,

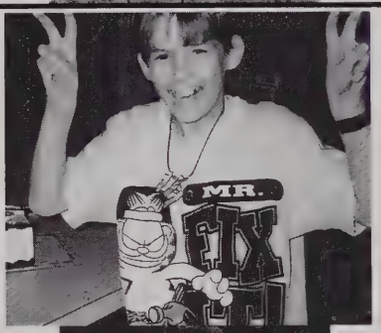
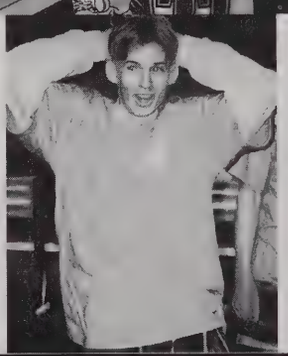
You have feet in your shoes.
You can steer yourself any direction you choose. You're on your own. And you know what you know. And YOU are the guy who'll decide where to go

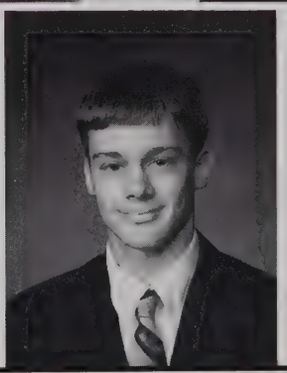
By: Dr. Seuss

We will miss our in-house engineer, fix-it man, our clarinetist, game fest organizer, and computer wiz. But most of all we will miss you, our son, big brother, and a great guy. Love, Your Family





Congratulations Frankie!
You grew up to fast.
We love you.
Mom, Dad, Robin and Robert



Blessed is the man who finds wisdom,
And the man who gains understanding,
For its profit is better than the profit of silver and its gain than fine gold.
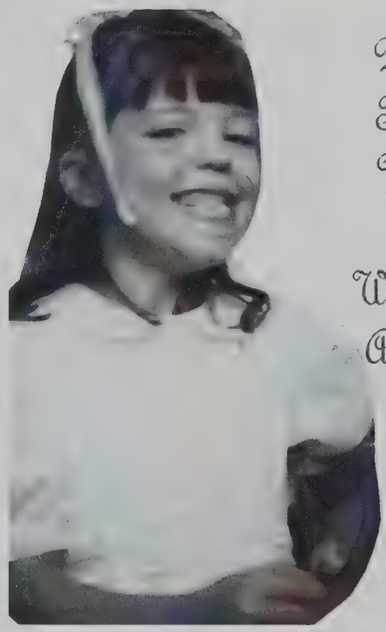
Proverbs 3: 13-14

Patrick,

How blessed we are to have you as our son! We are so proud of the person you have become and are confident of the successes that lie ahead for you.

Congratulations! We love you,
Mom, Dad, Sarah and Tim



Dear Megan,
To our beautiful child!
You've filled our home with music and laughter -
We love you with all our hearts.
Always look for the windows when the doors in life close.
Never lose your joy!
Godspeed and God bless,
Love, Mom, Dad, & Snoojay

Francesca-

"What lies behind you and lies ahead of you are tiny matters compared to what lies within you." - Emerson. Congratulations on your graduation. Follow your dreams and remember we love you.

Mom and Dad.

Kim,

Congratulations!

I am so proud of you!

Keep smiling and have fun at college!

Love always, Jenny

Kim,
You've brought us so much joy and we are so very proud of you. We love you very much and wish you all the happiness in the world. Congratulations on your graduation from high school!

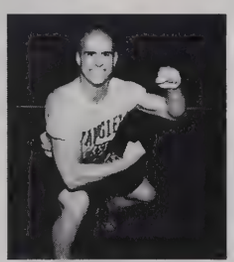
To Our Little Princess
Colleen
We love you and are so proud of you!
Love, Mom, Dad, Brian and Montana

To My sister whom I love
Though now you are graduating.
I will always remember you and I as little kids growing up together.
Since you are the bigger sister you always helped me stay out of trouble and work hard.
I hope and know whatever you want and try to be. you will become.

Love Always Your Little Sis
Lindsay

She's right on the money
She goes directly to my heart
And when it comes to lovin' me
She's everything I need, bullseye perfect
She is, right on the money

I love you baby!



ODE TO MR. (MOSTLY) MUFFIN

Tommy the tank
To you we must thank
For the laughs
And every good time
We've had a blast
And wish it could last
Forever, that would be fine
A wiz and a clown
With never a frown
Just a smile as bright as the sun
Your adventures await
Your quest will be great
Because you are Number One!

We love you forever,
Mom, Dad, Tracy, Amy, Meg and Max
(Tom, Henry, Katie, Justin and Josh, too)

" I'd like to be the sort of friend that you have been to me,
I'd like to be the help you've been always glad to be,
I'd like to mean as much to you each minute of the day,
as you have meant, friend of mine, to me along the way."
Love, Barrie

Colophon

The 34th edition of the Langley High School Shire was published by the Photojournalism class, and was printed by Herff Jones Inc., located in Pennsylvania. One thousand three hundred and fifty copies were printed. The cost of the yearbook was $45, which increased to $55 after December 1, and then up to $65 after March 1.

All faculty and student portraits, the senior panoramic, and other candids were taken by Segall Majestic by Lifetouch. Other candids were also taken by photojournalism students, and photo club members. The senior superlative pictures, and cover picture were shot by the staff's photo editors, Maryam Gharavi, Sabrina Chin, and Ashley Green.

The theme, Final Chapter, and cover design were developed by co-editors-in-chief Barrie Charapp and Jenny Gay at the Gettysburg Yearbook Experience summer camp. The editors also created most of the layout designs. The designs were created using Pagemaker 6.5, and Dell PCs were used.

Thanks...

We'd like to extend a special thanks to our patient and informative HJ representative Mike Harris. Thank you for dealing with all of our last minute changes!

Thank you, Mrs. McCormick, for being such an amazing advisor. You were extremely patient and understanding. Thank you for sticking up for us.

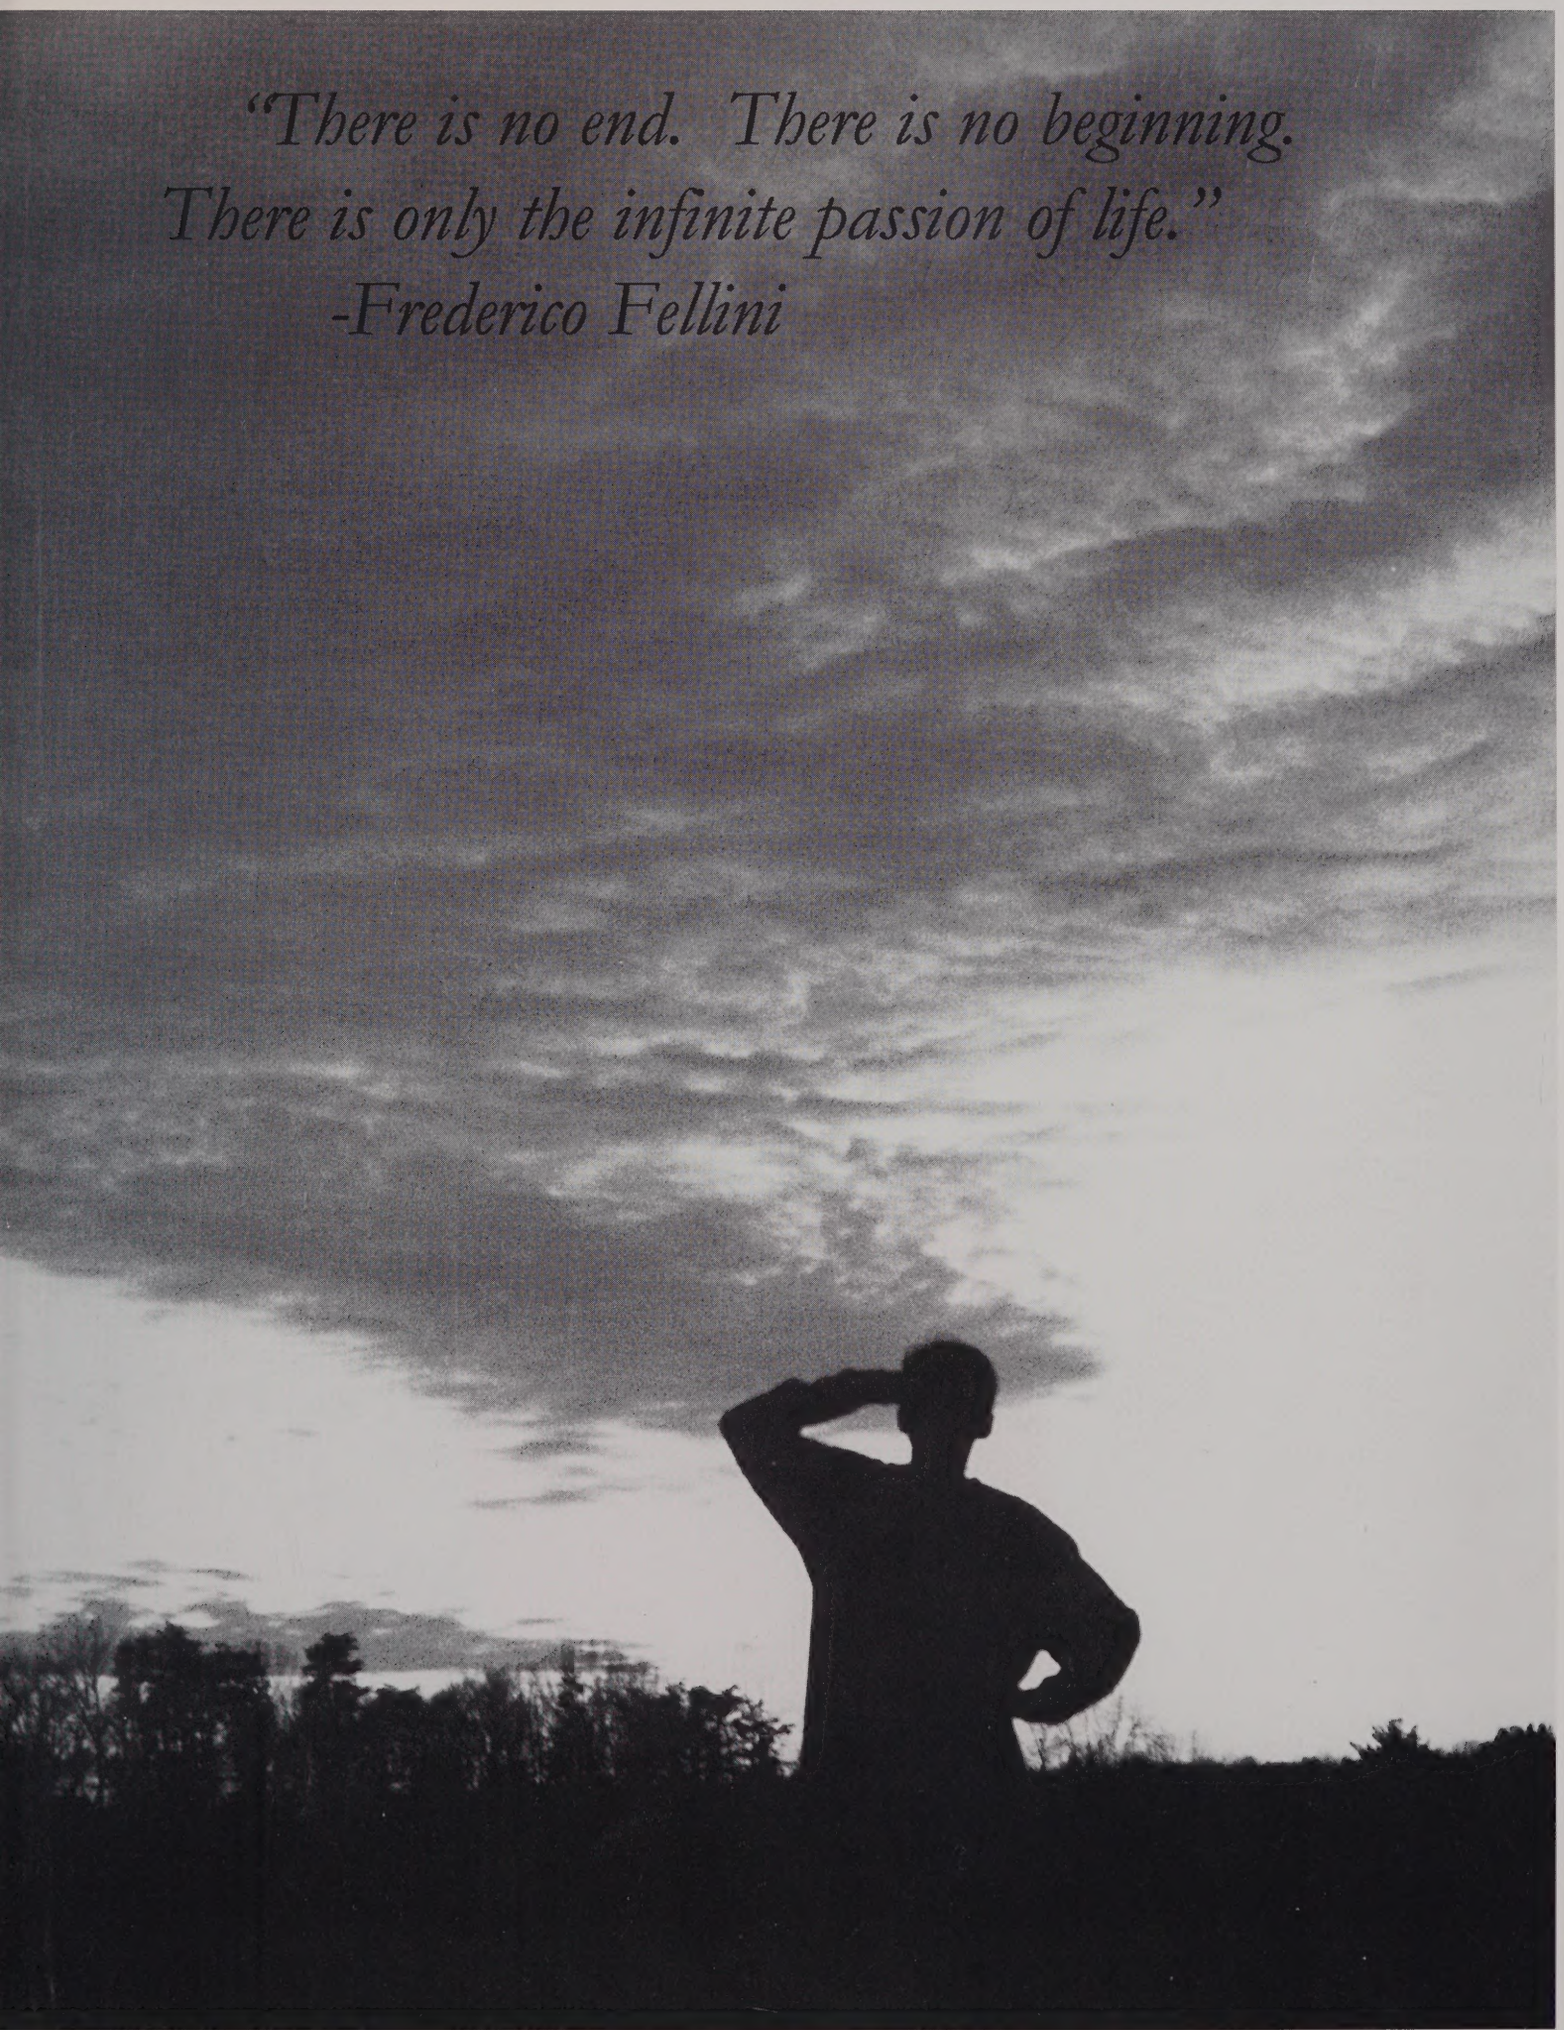
Thanks to the hard working staff members of the first period Photojournalism class, and the photo club. Thank you Mr. John Aiken for all your time and great pictures.

We'd like to thank all of our inspirations, even if you don't know who you are. Thanks to the staff of the Gettysburg Yearbook Experience and thanks for turning off that fire alarm for us. We'd also like to extend a heart felt thank you to the local 7-11 merchant for our special reading material. A special shot out to Mr. Cho, Courtney has yet to be forgiven for your untimely death. Oh, where is Rice Hall?

During the play Deadwood Dick, Tommy Mangione takes a nap to escape into his dreams.

Another chapter in the lives of students is concluded and awaits the commencement of a new one. The new chapter may be the entry into college, a new career, or another year at Langley. Everlasting, the book of life continues to grow. One story of memories is embarked upon where another comes to a close, making 1999 apart of the beginning, not

The Epilogue.



"There is no end. There is no beginning.
There is only the infinite passion of life."
-Frederico Fellini
